VISION

- To improve healthcare in Malawi and Africa
- To encourage medical debate in Malawi and Africa
- To promote medical publishing in Malawi and Africa

MISSION STATEMENT

To stimulate dialogue amongst researchers and health professionals in Malawi through information that will aid daily practice, lifelong learning, and career development. We believe that there is an important role for the MMJ to publish research that is relevant in the Malawian context and to encourage and stimulate scientific debate amongst health personnel.

BACKGROUND

The Malawi Medical Journal is an open access peer-reviewed publication of scientific medical research and serves as a forum for the dissemination of findings of health research undertaken in Malawi and Africa. It incorporates original research studies, policy analysis, case reports, literature reviews, and occasional special features. It is published both in print and electronically on a quarterly basis. To promote the widest readership possible, the journal articles are available as free full text on www.mmj.mw.
